Start the New Year learning effective data preservation techniques from national expert and co-author of 7 Steps for Legal Holds of ESI and Other Documents (ARMA 2009). There were more legal hold sanctions granted by state and federal courts in 2009 than in any other year. At the heart of these sanctions decisions were failures to follow a defensible legal hold process. This presentation will explore the changing face of records management and provide straightforward tips to help attendees understand the basic steps involved in a defensible legal hold business process.

John J. Jablonski is a partner at Goldberg Segalla LLP. An experienced trial lawyer, John consults with fortune 500 companies about pre-litigation planning, record retention policies and implementation of legal holds. He is national legal hold counsel for one of the nation's largest retail companies. John is a frequent speaker and author on e-discovery, legal holds and electronic evidence, including articles in Law Technology News and the Information Management Journal. John is the author of the legal blog Legal Holds and Trigger Events www.legalholds.typepad.com and co-author of the book 7 steps for Legal Holds of ESI and Other Documents. John has presented at legal hold workshops around the country, including numerous podcasts and webinars about legal holds, e-discovery and records management.
